The Value of Educational Content

41% of financial services organizations believe their key challenge over the next two years is improving customer experience, according to recent market research. More and more people are motivated to self-manage their finances, because non-bank competitors are providing a better customer experience with helpful, personalized content.

So how do you eclipse your competitors and become a source of knowledge for your customers?

25% of millennials rate educational content as an important feature when choosing a financial service. They want clear content that helps them reach their financial goals.

Clear content shows you have nothing to hide, which builds customer trust and loyalty. If your content is confusing, customers are more likely to change financial service providers.

Acrolinx helps you write readable support content and tutorials. It reduces the stress of endless review rounds and gives you more time to focus on customer interactions.

Why Publishing Has Become Essential to the Growth of Every Business

One of the fundamental and important takeaways from Forbes's recent report is that publishing is essential for business growth. We at MyDeMo, Inc. couldn't agree more. As it turns out, neither could many of the more than 360 marketing executives Forbes surveyed as part of our research.

In fact, 96 percent of them agreed that "the quality and structure of their marketing content is essential to achieving their growth goals and increasingly defines the job of the CMO." Not only that, it's also noted by more than 70 percent that the "effectiveness of their marketing content directly impacts their ability to drive top-line growth with digital, social and mobile technologies supporting core branding, demand generation, and value-selling programs."
